Poor Condition Release For Installation Of Solar System

I have been informed by the installation crew that the condition of certain exterior portions of my residence (including, for example roof covering, gutters, and downspouts) prevents the authorized installation company from warranting against immediate or future damage, or other loss due to its age or poor condition including loss or damage at installation. They have agreed to undertake the installation of the solar system, at my specific request, and pursuant to contract, and agree to use their best efforts to avoid damage or loss. However, I understand and acknowledge that I bear all responsibility for any such present or future loss or damage.

Outside Tank Waiver

Buyer acknowledges that a weather-proof enclosure must be provided for the storage tank component of the solar water heating system installed on or about this day at Buyer's principle residence. The responsibility to provide such an enclosure is solely the Buyer's and failure to promptly fulfill this responsibility voids the limited warranty of the seller and the solar tank manufacturer. Buyer acknowledges that the placement of the storage in other than an enclosed, weather-proof area at the time of installation is done at Buyer's request, and with full understanding of the consequences detailed above.

Installation Release

I am specifically authorizing the installation of my solar system, having been previously informed of the possibility of, and acknowledging responsibility for, any disputes which may arise due to deed restrictions, community codes, housing or condominium association rules or restrictions, zoning ordinances, or the like, which may (permissibly or not) limit, restrict, prevent, or otherwise affect the installation or retention of the solar system.
